

Residuals

Expertise, Process & System

Cast & Crew handles all residuals markets and provides tracking, administration & reporting. We calculate and determine the amount of all required residual payments due to the exhibition and sale of productions in various markets, and we prepare a corresponding schedule of residuals for each respective project. Residual payments are then made to each entitled individual/guild from an approved residual schedule.

We offer clear advantages that deliver enhanced services to our clients:

EXPERTS. We maintain a dedicated team with experts. Each residuals client has a single point of contact and our team is staffed with experienced residuals professionals.

SEAMLESS. Our residuals operation is part of our overall payroll system, enabling a seamless and automatic transition from payroll processing to residuals. Our system has updated and historical rates and rules dating back to 1960 and we continuously maintain updated residual rates and rules for residuals calculations. Moreover, our table-driven system design easily adapts to changing residuals requirements.

FLEXIBLE. All residual trigger information (air dates, revenue, subscriber counts, cast lists) can be uploaded electronically or input from paper. When initial payroll is handled by Cast & Crew, the information is seamlessly fed into our residuals module. We also can ingest data from any source, including Collection Account Management services, if we are not currently handling your payroll. You just have to let the CAM know within 60 days of execution of your CAM agreement. A SAG cast list is often all we need.

RELATIONSHIPS. We have solid working relationships with industry unions, guilds and trust funds. We make sure all employees are paid in compliance with their respective collective-bargaining agreements (whether basic or negotiated). All applicable union, guild and trust fund payments and reporting are fully accommodated.

COMPLIANCE. We report all payroll tax deductions and pay all employer tax contributions. All necessary filings and mailings are handled as mandated in addition to year-end reporting and filing requests.

EFFICIENT. We provide fast turnaround times. Our accurate residuals payments are the result of a rigorous quality-assurance process that we employ before payments are calculated and sent for approval. We provide easier and less-burdensome processing.

EASY. We deliver residual invoices and reports in easy-to-read electronic formats that have become the industry standard. Cast & Crew maintains all applicable records and printouts in accordance with each client's residual service agreement.

Cast & Crew remains the most customer-friendly player in the payroll and residuals industry, staying abreast of new developments and committed to effective solutions.
