At its discretion, THC may require any additional information before issuing the final disbursement.

The financial participation of the province will in no case exceed any amount required to finance a project.

Evaluation Grid:

In keeping with the goals and objectives of the program, the following evaluation criteria have been developed to ensure projects with the greatest economic and cultural impact are given priority. These also provide a mechanism that allows THC to fairly distribute program funds, particularly in the event that industry demand exceeds the annual funding allotment.

Similar to the approach used by the Canada Media Fund that assigns points to specific evaluation measures, THC will use the following evaluation grid. The points received under each area can then be added to provide a total score for each project. All projects will be evaluated at the same time, which will allow for ranking and prioritization of projects.
